

JAMES
VINCENT

BIO

Like many of his peers, DJ James Vincent grew up listening to and being inspired by the trailblazing music of Run DMC, The Beastie Boys, De La Soul and The Roots. In 2015, thanks to an encyclopedic knowledge of music and the innate ability to intuitively read a crowd in a darkened nightclub anywhere in the world, James is now working alongside many of those same musical icons he grew up admiring. His career has taken him from spinning a private party with Questlove for the New York Jets at Super Bowl XLVIII and creating a soundtrack for 20,000 in the Sahara tent at Coachella to slots opening for John Legend at House of Blues in Los Angeles, sharing decks with Run DMC and DJ AM and DJing for Dido on the Lilith Fair tour and across the Atlantic to spin for Paris Fashion Week.

His remixes and songwriting credits for rockers Bush and Citizen Cope, meanwhile, have netted him two gold records and a “Best Song” MTV Movie Award. His original music can be heard on Entourage, An American Werewolf in Paris, Coach Carter and Accepted. For DJ James Vincent, the key to success is simply this: “Figuring out where to creatively take the crowd next to keep them on the floor, making noise and having fun. It’s about creating a vibe where things are flowing and I don’t have to think about what comes next. It just comes to me organically and things just click.”

Armed with an extensive knowledge of Hip Hop, House, R&B, Reggae, Rock, Pop and Mash Ups, along with an audio arsenal consisting of more than 500 GB of MP3s loaded onto his Serato rig and 30,000 pieces of vinyl to draw from, James is constantly focused on creating a fresh, original listening experience.

“You’re always looking for that reaction,” he explains. “You want the crowd to be singing along but you also want them to be surprised and at the right moments expose them to something new. If I can use this warehouse of musical knowledge in my head to entertain a crowd and keep them coming back for more, I know I’m doing something right.”
